

Prophecy given Sunday, February 09, 2020

Page 1

I heard this reverberate through my spirit this morning. I am going to say it you like I heard God say it to me. Plague shall follow plague; catastrophe shall be heaped upon catastrophe. Earthquakes shall follow earthquakes, judgment shall follow more judgment. Greater than these shall you see & what think you shall you be my counselors. Shall you judge my words & my judgments? Can I not do what I will do? This is what I heard God speak to me. Can I not do what I will do? These are just the things, these are just the beginning of things that shall be. These are just the beginning of things that shall be.

These are the words not of man but of God. You cannot change my mind for I have set them in stone. I have set them in my word. I have laid them out in the heavens. They are from eternity to eternity & therefore you shall see line upon line, here a little, there a little, here a lot, there a lot. Disease that has never been named before shall be named. It shall come forth from the bowels of the earth. It shall come forth from the animals. It shall come forth from those wicked, wicked, wicked evil ones. And it shall cause many to fall & I shall be blamed.

Page 2

Write these things down, listen to my words, write them down for it shall come to pass says the Lord. I shall be blamed for all that happens. But these things have you brought upon yourselves. Your judgment awaits you oh earth. The volcanoes shall belch forth like never before. Islands shall come forth out of the seas. Islands shall sink into the seas. Earthquakes shall shake in places they have never shaken before. You shall hear of deceiving spirits let loose in churches that you would have never thought they would have entertained angels unawares. And the angels unaware that they are entertaining are not my angels but rather Satan's angels, fallen angels. Doctrines of devils shall become the doctrines of churches. I shall add to these words. You shall know that I am God & besides me there is no other God. You shall see it vindicated that there are those that are the ancient gods brought forth from the ancient times. And you will know of a truth that these are the gods that men worshipped. And you will not be deceived because you have already been told.

Page 3

This not a message of man, this is a message from me. I shall add to this in the time appropriate. Pause & think on what you've heard for judgment shall be added to judgment. Be very afraid. Be filled with the fear of God. Be filled with the fear of God. You are not afraid enough. Be filled with the fear as Noah was filled with fear & so built the ark. The fear of the Lord is your beginning of wisdom. These are the words that I shall leave you with.